

SS KAM CHANCELLOR

(On how the team handles adversity so easily) “We’re connected together. We all believe something’s going to happen, offense making a play, defense or special teams. Somebody on the squad is going to make difference and turn things around. I think we all have that mindset. We’re all connected on that level. We all believe that so it keeps us poise when adversity comes.”

(On Cassius Marsh and the young guy’s performance) “A lot of the young guys came out there and balled man. It was expected from them, they had a great training camp. They had a great preseason, I saw them make a lot of plays. We’re all connected, we all contributed to making plays when it counts and they stepped up.”

(On what was it like to watch Russell Wilson and the offense march down the field knowing he was hurt) “Looked pretty normal to me. It doesn’t matter; guys always get nicked up during the game. But they finish playing because they care that much about their brothers. They want to be apart of the victory and make a difference. It just shows how strong you are as a man, as a character and as a teammate to stand in there and march down there and get the score.”
