MIAMI AT CINCINNATI

ANDREW WHITWORTH

Offensive Tackle

Can you figure out why the offense has to settle for field goals as opposed to touchdowns once you get inside the red zone?

"We just have to eliminate mistakes in the red zone. For whatever reason, every time we get in a scoring position, we have a little hiccup here or there. We're moving the football well, and to have a hiccup down there when we have a chance to score or we get a turnover down there, we don't get seven out of it. This game could have easily been a 40-something to 7 game, and we made it where they still have a shot at the end. The reality is our red zone percentage has got to get better if we're going to have a chance to get where we want."

What do you attribute to your being able to move the ball well against the Dolphins, versus what happened against Denver this past Sunday?

"We just were able to execute. A.J. made some big plays for us and we were able to get the ball to a bunch of different people, and it was good for C.J. (Uzomah) to have a good game for us. Like I said, we're going to mature. We're going to get better. We've got a lot of new faces in their offensively and if you really look at it snap-to-snap, there's a lot of guys that haven't been leaned on to play that many snaps or have never played in the offense, so there's going to be a growing part of the season. Now it's time to really see guys take leaps and bounds forward."
