SAN DIEGO CHARGERS vs. MIAMI DOLPHINS
Qualcomm Stadium (70,000) – San Diego, California
Sunday, Nov. 13, 2016 – 1:05 p.m. PT

CHARGERS HEAD COACH MIKE MCCOY

Opening statement:

“I think overall, looking at the game, too many missed opportunities throughout the entire game in all three phases and turning the football over and giving a good team too many opportunities to capitalize off of. There’s a lot of ball left. We’ve got to look at every detail of what we’re doing and move on from this tough loss.”

On the wide receiver corps:

“We’ll evaluate the film tomorrow and look at every little thing and just got to see what happened in certain situations and why we missed some things.”

On the emphasis on getting to 5-5 heading into the bye and now the frustration of this loss:

“Well, all losses are tough. We had an opportunity to get there. Getting to 5-5 was important for all of us going into the game, and like I mentioned earlier in my opening statement, too many missed opportunities and mistakes to get there.”

On what led to the turnovers today:

“Each one is different. There’s a different reason for each play. It’s tough. You can’t turn the football over.”

On potential miscommunication between Philip Rivers and Tyrell Williams:

“There’s some things when you’re going to try to back shoulder a player, you know, when you’re running vertically down the field on a go route and there’s times where we are going to throw it on the back shoulder and times when you’re going to go full to the top, so we missed a couple opportunities today.”

On if today’s play by wide receiver had anything to do with bringing in new players:

“Tyrell (Williams) has been playing the whole entire year. Are you talking about the back shoulder throws or which throw are you talking about?”

On other receivers, particularly Isaiah Burse flattening out a route:

“Yeah, those are certain things that come up. Any time there’s an opportunity where you might miss something in a game and you want to talk about it, that’s every game regardless of who is playing. We’re not going to make any excuses. We’ve got to learn from it. There’s going to be some times where you’re going to miss some things, and we’ve got to communicate and that’s what we do in between every series, really, but we’re not going to make any excuses.”

On hoping to go into the bye at .500 and now where this loss leaves the team:

“4-6. We fell short. We didn’t get to it. Like I mentioned in my opening statement, too many mistakes and missed opportunities against a good team.”
