

Jay Kaiser enters his seventh season as assistant to the head coach with the Dolphins, assisting Head Coach Adam Gase in organizing football operations for the club. Kaiser manages several elements of Gase's off-field agenda, involving the day-to-day schedule, player and staff communications and the football calendar, including the offseason programs, minicamps and training camp.

In the three years (2009-11) before coming to the Dolphins, Kaiser served in a similar capacity for Raheem Morris, the head coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, including the Bucs' 10-6 season in 2010.

Prior to joining the Buccaneers, Kaiser spent seven seasons (2002-08) on the Kansas State football staff. In 2008, he served as the director of recruiting operations for the Wildcats. In addition to organizing Kansas State's recruiting efforts, he assisted with day-to-day operations and oversaw the Powercat Pride program.

Kaiser served as a graduate assistant at Toledo before working for Kansas State, where he spent one year as the Rockets' assistant quarterbacks and receivers coach. He also coached tight ends and special teams at Northern Iowa as an assistant coach in 1999 following a two-year stint as a graduate assistant at Northwest Missouri State. While on staff with the Bearcats, Kaiser helped the program win an NCAA Division II national title.

Kaiser received his start as a student coach at Bethany College from 1993 through 1996. He earned a bachelor's degree from Bethany and later added a master's degree from Northwest Missouri State.

A native of Liberal, Kansas, Kaiser and his wife, Camille, have two children, Karson and Payton.
